Kingsburg Tri-County Health Care District Grant Application
Kingsburg 4-H Club

1. Project Overview: Include purpose of the grant request. Describe in detail how the funds will promote health and wellness and further the grant goal of fostering quality health services and programs which benefit the residents of the District.

Purpose of the grant request: $23,090 funding request for the Kingsburg 4-H Club to maintain and expand community-based educational opportunities for youth ages 8-18. 4-H Members “learn by doing” from skilled adult volunteers in project areas like animal science, healthy living activities, cooking, agriculture, community service, and leadership.

Kingsburg 4-H Club has an annual membership of 70-100 youth, ages 8-18, and 18 adult volunteer project leaders.

Club Structure:

- Monthly Meetings: The 4-H Officer Leadership Team (made up of youth in 4th – 8th grade) leads a monthly club meeting at Kingsburg Community Church.
- Project Groups: 4-H members choose individualized project groups throughout the year to focus their learning based on interest. Kingsburg 4-H offers the following project groups:
 - o Animals: Sheep, Dairy Goats, Meat Goats, Horse/Hippology, Rabbits
 - o Foods (cooking), Foods (baking), Foods (home arts), Outdoor Adventure, Woodworking, Small Engines, Crochet, Sewing, Floriculture, Rocketry, Public Speaking, Community Service, and Archery

All project groups meet for a minimum of 6 hours per year, but most groups meet for more time.

Project groups are created by and led by local adult volunteers who have a special interest in a subject and choose to lead the group.

- Community Service: Several community service opportunities are scheduled year-round for all club members.

Our Project Groups empower youth to be healthy – body and mind – with the skills to make healthy decisions and lead healthy lifestyles. Having the confidence and skills to lead healthy lifestyles not only improves overall well-being, it enables youth to tackle life’s challenges today and become leaders in their lives, careers, and communities as they grow into responsible adulthood.

Our animal science groups are some of the more popular project groups and help youth to gain a better understanding of the basics of sheep/goat/horse care and production, nutritional needs, how to keep the animals healthy, how to correct health problems, and more. Our club often has 20 or more members who show their animals at The Big Fresno Fair each year. Members participating in a 4-H animal science project are able to engage in science-based, hands-on education. Working with animals helps them feel connected to others, encourages outdoor exercise, teaches many life-skills, and boosts confidence.

4-H Youth learn how to lead lives that balance physical, mental, and emotional health. 4-H members learn essential life skills such as oral and written communication and decision-making. Youth participants strengthen their self-concept and character through interaction with peers and professionals from Kingsburg and different parts of the Central Valley and state.

Groups like Foods/Nutrition (cooking, baking and home arts), Woodworking, Rocketry, Archery and Sewing promote physical health with outdoor exercise, developing useful life skills, building healthy habits, and learning about nutrition. 4-H Youth see positive growth in their mental and emotional well-being when they learn to see the bigger picture of life and how they fit into their community. They also establish positive relationships with peers and adults. Participants practice knowledge and skills in a safe, supportive environment. Learning through mistakes and successes, kids enjoy the process and experiences along the way.

5. Community Need: Describe specific needs of the District which your project will meet.

1. Youth Health and Wellness Education and Leadership:

Local schools have limited time for extracurricular activities beyond ELA, Math, and Science. The Kingsburg 4-H Club provides healthy living educational project groups such as animal groups, foods, woodworking, and archery that allow for physical activity, new experiences, social interactions, and career exploration outside of the traditional school day. Kingsburg has many sports programs, but Kingsburg 4-H programs offer healthy, physical alternatives for youth.

Kingsburg 4-H provides opportunities to develop leadership skills as students create agendas for monthly meetings, form activity committees, and make written and verbal reports at monthly meetings. Opportunities for youth in Kingsburg are limited and many families go to Fresno or Visalia for enrichment activities. Kingsburg 4-H provides a great local resource to the District.

The FFA (Future Farmers of America) program at Kingsburg High School is an active and thriving educational group. The Kingsburg 4-H Club introduces elementary and middle school students to the FFA curriculum and gives them confidence to join FFA as they enter high school.

2. Agricultural Education and Awareness:

Kingsburg is a blend of urban and rural living. Even with the close proximity of rural life, many children in Kingsburg are not exposed to the agricultural economy that surrounds them. Kingsburg 4-H raises awareness of and participation in the agricultural economy of the Central Valley. Students learn how food is grown, take tours of local agricultural businesses, and learn how animals are raised.

3. Community Awareness and Community Building:

Kingsburg 4-H works with KCAPS to complete community service projects like "adopting a shelf" in the KCAPS pantry and helping with their annual food drive. KCAPS gives a tour to the 4-H participants and educates them on the needs of others in the community. We participate in the KCAPS/Salvation Army Bell Ringing in December.

We also provide other community service opportunities like maintaining planters on Draper Street outside of the Village Mall and at the Kingsburg Train Depot. We have also partnered with the Train Depot to help with different events such as setting up model trains and decorating for Christmas.

Kingsburg 4-H brings families and individuals together from all different backgrounds and ages and provides a positive environment for them to interact, work together, and learn.

4. Health and Wellness Benefit to Adult Volunteers:

Children are not the only people who benefit from 4-H. Adult volunteers who help with the program benefit as well. Adult volunteers continue their education in their specialties when they prepare lessons and activities. Their interaction with the younger generations has a positive impact on the adults and children.

Re: Request for Confirmation of Exempt
Status under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954

Dear Regents:

This is in reference to your letter of July 13, 1982 requesting confirmation of the exempt status of The Regents of the University of California under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

In our letter of September 14, 1939, Code IT:P:T:1 CQ, it was held that you were entitled to exemption under the provisions of section 1016) of the Revenue Act of 1938.

A determination or ruling letter issued to an organization granting exemption under the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 or under a prior or subsequent Revenue Act remains in effect until exempt status has been terminated, revoked or modified,

OUR records indicate that you are the regularly constituted state university of the State of California originally created by a state legislature act of 1868; that you are engaged in educational activities; that your income "is derived from investments, endowments, tuition, and miscellaneous sources; and that your income is used in furtherance of your educational activities.

In addition, it appears from our records (including the information submitted with your letter of July 13, 1982), that there has been no change in your organization's exempt status. Accordingly, our letter of September 14, 1939 is still in effect.

Because section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 was derived from and continues, without substantive change, the language of section 1016) of the Revenue Act of 1938 (1939 Code"). and because our letter of September 14, 1939 is still in effect, it appears that you and your constituent units are entitled to exemption as an organization described in section 501(c)(3) of the 1954 Code.

Donors may deduct contributions to you as provided in section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (formerly section 23 (d) of the Internal

Dear Sir or Madam:

This is in reply to a letter dated September 25, 2012, in which you requested rulings concerning the income tax consequences of certain proposed transactions.

Facts:

You are a land grant university organized primarily for educational purposes, and your primary missions are teaching, research, and public service. You have been determined to be exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Your activities in furtherance of your exempt purposes include educational instruction to students from the undergraduate level to the most advanced graduate level. These activities are performed at 10 different campuses located throughout State.

You represent that the Club program in State is overseen by you through Division. Division oversees all of the activities of the Club, including a list of separately chartered activities bearing the Club name and emblem. In order to bear such name each activity must be approved by Agency, an agency of the federal government. None of the separate activities of Club is independently organized as a separate legal entity.

You conduct the Club program in conjunction with Agency, which also provides financing for the program. You represent that you will continue to operate Club activities as part of your operations. In the same manner as you operate academic courses, athletic events, and scientific research. You state that all the county directors in Division are your employees and that the directors are responsible for the administration and management of the Club activities. In addition to federal and state laws and guidelines you also ensure that the Club activities follow your university wide policies. You also represent that you will keep records of Club activities to ensure that all Club funds are used for section 501(c)(3) purposes. You require all Club activities to provide you with annual financial reports.

On your behalf, Division supervises several different types of Club activities, including camping programs, after-school clubs, and community clubs. The Club activities are open to all young persons within State, and are organized to impart to the participants the skills that they will need as adults. The focus of the Clubs is to promote positive youth development through educational programs directed at (i) science, engineering, and technology; (ii) healthy living; (iii) citizenship; and (iv) leadership. The Club program achieves its educational goals through various methods, including project-based, experiential, and collaborative methods. All Club classes are taught by highly-trained staff and volunteers.

You treat all Club activities as your activities. You require all the Club chapters to provide you with annual Club financial reports. Club chapter financial reports are summarized and submitted to the Division's Office, which reviews the summary reports and posts the summarized information to the University general ledger.

You provide acknowledgment letters to Club donors. In those letters, you inform donors that you have full ownership of all gifts made to you for the benefit of Clubs. Indicate whether any goods or services were provided in consideration for the donated funds, and, if so, provide a description and good faith estimate of the value of those goods or services. Because you are a governmental unit, you are not required to file any Form 990 series information return. However, you have stated that you will report on Form 990-1 all unrelated business income and expenses in connection with Club programs.

Rulings Requested:

1. Contributors made to University that are designated for Club activities or related programs may be deductible as charitable contributions, subject to the requirements and limitations of section 170.
2. University's operation of Club activities will not adversely affect University's tax-exempt status under section 501(c)(3).

The Regents of the University of California

Law: I.R.C. § 501(c)(3) provides for the exemption from federal income tax of an organization organized and operated exclusively for purposes described in section 501(c)(3), including educational purposes.

Treas. Reg. § 1.501(c)(3)-1(a)(1) provides that, in order to be exempt under section 501(c)(3) of the Code, an organization must be both organized and operated exclusively for one or more of the exempt purposes specified in that section.

Treas. Reg. § 1.501(c)(3)-1(c)(1) states an organization will be regarded as operated exclusively for one or more exempt purposes only if it engages primarily in activities which accomplish one or more of such exempt purposes. An organization will not be so regarded if more than an insubstantial part of its activities is not furtherance of an exempt purpose.

Treas. Reg. § 1.501(c)(3)-1(d)(3) defines educational as the instruction or training of the individual for the purpose of improving or developing the capabilities, and the instruction of the public on subjects useful to the individual and beneficial to the community.

I.R.C. § 170(e)(1) allows, subject to certain limitations, a deduction for charitable contributions as defined in section 170(c), payment of which is made within the taxable year and verified under regulations prescribed by the Secretary.

I.R.C. § 170(c)(2) includes in the definition of "charitable contribution" a contribution or gift to or for the use of a corporation, trust, or community chest, fund, or foundation, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or to foster national or international amateur sports competition, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals.

Several substantiation requirements apply to charitable contributions.

I.R.C. § 170(f)(8) provides in part that no deduction is allowed under section 170(e) for any contribution if the donor does not obtain the proper substantiation for the contribution by a contemporaneous written acknowledgment of the contribution by the donee organization.

I.R.C. § 170(f)(17) provides in part that no deduction is allowed under section 170(e) for any contribution of a cash, check, or other monetary gift unless the donor maintains a record of such contribution a bank record or a written communication from the donee showing the name of the donee organization, the date of the contribution, and the amount of the contribution.

Other substantiation requirements apply for deductibility of certain non-cash contributions. See section 170(f)(11) and the regulations thereunder.
